Custom Integrated Bathtub and Tub Deck

This quartz bathtub and marble tub deck were carefully crafted to seamlessly blend with their surroundings in this home - a study in the relationship between natural and manmade elements. Every last detail counts when building a durable, watertight tub that will last for many years to come, and the Alpha Granite team nailed it once again.

What's your favorite natural stone?

★ Infinity White

Leathered quartzite. The tone is so calming, and the vein flow makes for beautiful countertops. Any shade of blue is so pretty to me.

How long have you been at Alpha?

★ I just had my 4 year anniversary.

What makes you happy when you're working?

★ I love checking out all the different natural stone slabs as they arrive. There is so much beauty on Earth, even in the stone that is buried beneath our feet. Each slab is unique and I'm always excited to see what our vendors have dug up!

What do you like doing outside of work?

★ I like to be outdoors when the Texas weather permits - hiking, kayaking, or just relaxing on my patio and BBQing with my family. I also love going to the movies, dinner, dancing, and traveling!

Materials Suitable for Outdoor Use

When making countertop selections for an outdoor area, it is important to consider materials that can withstand sun exposure, extreme temperature fluctuation, standing water, and other natural elements (dirt, pollen, etc). We offer a variety of stone options that are fantastic choices for outdoor installations.

NATURAL STONE: Granite and Soapstone are both resilient enough to hold up to the elements. We recommend against installing Marble outdoors, and Quartzite only if the area is shaded from direct sunlight. Marble is porous and will stain easily, while the resins used in Quartzite quarrying can yellow over time with sun exposure.

ULTRA COMPACT SURFACE/PORCELAIN: There are a number of brands on the market that produce ultra compact/sintered stone and porcelain slabs. These come in a variety of colors and designs made to mimic other materials (natural stone, concrete, etc), but without the worry of maintenance. They are extremely durable and often come in slip-resistant finishes that can be used as outdoor flooring.

OUTDOOR RATED QUARTZ: Caesarstone has developed a line of 3 quartz colors that are manufactured without the resins that are problematic for installation of traditional quartz surfaces outdoors.
