Project Highlight

Cherry Creek Kitchen Remodel

This late-90s home was meticulously renovated with modern living in mind, and the heart of the home is the stunning kitchen, where warmth and elegance blend seamlessly. Central to the space is a large island featuring sleek quartz countertops with waterfall panels and a classic farmhouse sink. Careful vein matching completes the custom feel - thoughtful design makes this kitchen not only beautiful, but also the welcoming centerpiece of the home.

Team Member Spotlight

Meghan Blanton - Sales Executive

How long have you been at Alpha?

★ About a year and a half.

What makes you happy when you're working?

★ Getting the opportunity to make a positive impact on people's day!

What's your favorite natural stone?

★ Either Calacatta Verde or Azul Macuba.

What do you like doing outside of work?

★ I love all things nature: hiking, fishing, paddle boarding, and bird watching. When the weather isn't stellar, I enjoy cuddling my orange cat, Squid, painting with acrylics, yoga, and working my way through my collection of vegetarian cookbooks.

Invisacook

Experience the future of cooking with the Invisacook - a groundbreaking induction cooktop that is seamlessly installed beneath your porcelain countertops, freeing up valuable workspace and delivering a sleek, clutter-free kitchen design. The Invisacook works through your countertop to heat the pan, but does not generate direct heat, so it remain safe to use as traditional counter space when you're not cooking.

We are the only certified Invisacook installer in Austin, so give us a call or visit one of our showrooms to learn more. We have a unit installed in our Austin showroom just waiting for you to try it out!
